FOCUS ON ... THE DELISLE YOUTH GALLERY

So, what is the Delisle Youth Gallery Anyway?

The Delisle Youth Gallery was created for the purpose of giving youth a space to express their voices through any form of art, and share them with the community. The aim is to represent youth as positive, creative individuals and to encourage them to see themselves in the same way. We aim to build community awareness and acceptance of youth and youth issues, and to foster, recognize, and showcase personal strengths and diversity within Toronto's youth community.

Don't we sound like something you want to support?!

SUBMIT YOUR ART!

Our early call for art is November 30th at 4 p.m.!

If you get your art in early, your work will be considered for colour promotional posters, leaflets, and newsletters. The Delisle Youth Gallery is a phenomenal opportunity to share your work with hundreds of people!

We'll accept paintings, photographs, sculptures, mixed media... whatever you can imagine! Something you created for a class, or something you did during your free time. All art is accepted provided there is still space in the show. We look forward to seeing your creations.

NUIT BLANCHE EXPERIENCE

Oh, Nuit Blanche, the long anticipated 'art thing' of Toronto. Although I spent much of my night roaming wide-eyed, by the end of it only one display evoked my positive emotions. A group along Yorkville Ave. projected a black and white film from the curb of a bustling crepe shop to the roofs of a few undersized fashion boutiques. The experience struck my 'want-to-be-Parisian' heartstrings to leave a resonating warmth that draws me back to that spot, anticipating the next Nuit Blanche.
